VARSITY FACES BIGGEST WEEK OF ATHLETICS

Interscholastic Meet to Divide Interest With All Other Spring Sports

The twenty-sixth annual interscholastic track meet Saturday afternoon at Camp Randall will be the outstanding feature on the most crowded athletic schedule of any one week this year.

The card opens Friday afternoon with a baseball game with Purdue on the home diamond, and a varsity track meet with Minnesota at Minneapolis. Saturday Coach Kent's nine will battle Illinois at Urbana, the tennis squad will contest in a dual tennis meet with Northwestern here, and various high schools of the state will compete for honors on the cinder path.

23 Schools Entered

The inter-scholastic meet doubtless will be one of the biggest ever held, with 23 schools represented by 218 athletes, entered thus far. Among prep school tracksters already signed up are several unusual stars, and more than one state high school record may fall before the close of the competition.

It is generally realized that chances for Wisconsin's winning the conference baseball title are practically gone and it seems that old man jinx has been taking special delight in crippling the team at times when a strong aggregation is needed the most. His latest victim on the team is Allen Miller, pitcher, who is ill with the mumps. Miller is the third man on the squad to be laid up with this malady this year, and the sixth player the varsity nine has lost.

Shift Badger Lineup

The Badgers will face both Illinois and Purdue in vengeance games with another shift in the lineup. Willigrod, who has been out since the preliminary games with a broken ankle, probably will fill his old position at first and Zulfer will be used on the mound in at least one of the games. Lyman may have recovered sufficiently from the mumps by the end of the week to go in on the third sack.

Coach Jones' cinder men will find a stronger track team at Minnesota than that school has boasted for quite a while. In a meet with Iowa last week the Gophers lost to their opponents by only a few points.

DEAN'S OFFICE LISTS JOBS FOR SUMMER

Offers of vacation jobs for students are beginning to flood the offices of President E. A. Birge and Dean S. H. Goodnight. Firms in all sections of the country, from summer resort hotels to railroad construction companies, are writing to the university authorities asking that students be advised of their offers for summer employment.

Students who wish to inspect the employment list are asked to call at the office of Dean Goodnight, 22 South hall.

STRICKEN PROM-GOER IS REPORTED BETTER

The condition of J. A. Ternan of Beloit, who, suffering from a burst appendix was hovering between life and death at St. Mary's hospital Sunday, is reported good.

Mr. Ternan was visiting Oscar Christianson, a student at the university, 209 Bernard court, and attended the prom activities.

NEW FEATURES FOR SWINGOUT

Final Details for Senior Event Will be Planned at Meet Tomorrow

New features in the way of program and procession arrangements will mark the annual swingout June 4. The program is under direction of Winifred Titus, general chairman, and an able corps of assistants. Plans will be discussed in detail at a meeting of Yellow Tassel tomorrow at 12:15 p. m. in the Concert room, Lathrop.

Lincoln Terrace will be the scene of the festivities. The band will be stationed in the portico of Main hall, and the procession will form and march down either side of the upper campus and back up the center. Senior girls in cap and gown will be followed by the junior girls carrying the daisy chain. Freshman and sophomore girls will complete the procession. More emphasis has been placed on the organization and direction of the procession this year, and it is expected that the ceremony will be executed with greater dispatch than in former years.

Begins at 6:15 P. M.

The time of the swingout has been set at 6:15 p. m., so that the whole program may be completed by 9 p. m. and there will be no interference with later engagements. Circular letters have been mailed to the larger rooming and sorority houses urging co-operation of the girls to prevent any conflict of dates. Many groups have signified their willingness to change the dinner hour to accommodate themselves to the earlier time.

Senior women are urged to secure their caps and gowns for the occasion as early as possible. There may be some difficulty in securing them later.

Song Program on Muir Knoll

The song program, which will be conducted on Muir Knoll after the procession, has been carefully arranged, and there will be no delay in carrying it out. The senior swingout is the first of the exercises that mark the close of the year and the first big commencement occasion for all senior women.

Girls Can't Puff the Wicked Weed in Morgan's Window

She's still smoking.

The fair damsel who sat in Dad Morgan's window on State street for ten minutes Friday nonchalantly blowing nicotine fumes into the faces of inquiring passers-by continues to enjoy her delicately perfumed cigarette in languorous contentment, but in the more secluded confines of the Candy shop.

And all because the mistress of Chadbourne hall questioned the propriety of a young woman smoking in a place so conspicuous as Morgan's window and doubted the timelessness of purple silk socks.

But the fair smoker was bewitching with her brilliant auburn hair and her Frenchy, satin dress. The few minutes she was in the window she gathered a crowd that filled the street. Now she sits unpretentiously in the Candy shop, shielded from the public view.

Alas, she's not real and living; she's just another one of those Octopus posters.

SEVEN ELECTED TO WHITE SPADES

White Spades, honorary junior-senior society, has announced the election of seven men, two juniors and five sophomores. Those elected are:

Milton Borman, '21; Thomas Coxon, '22; William Collins, '22; Clyde B. Emery, '21; Donald Marvin, '22; Clarence Rasmussen, '22; Guy Sundt, '22.

WOMEN NAMED TO MAKE PLANS FOR FIELD DAY

Hazel Wright is Selected as General Chairman for Event June 5

Committees chosen for women's field day, June 5, were announced last night.

Hazel Wright will be general chairman, with Miss Marie Karnf as faculty advisor. Isabelle Waterman, Phyllis Hamilton, Marie Johnson, Eleanor Galk, Margaret Swift, are on the advisory committee. Dorothy Carlock, Isabel Capps, Sada Buckmaster, Margaret Henry, Alice Tucker, Edwina Dexter, Marion Strassburger, Marcia Hinkins, chairman, comprise the publicity and finance committee.

Other committees include Auta Lyman, Consuelo Burwell, Hazel Hoag, Ida B. Knights, Mabel Winter, Marjorie Severance, Romaine Berryman, food; Marguerite Shepard, arrangements; Lee F. Bacon, Zerian Blish, Frances Drake, Marguerite Shepard, special dancing arrangements.

Squads for field day will be chosen within a week. Teams are chosen from them and will be announced about a week later.

URGE EARLY ORDERS FOR SENIOR GOWNS

The Co-op announces that orders must be made at least a week ahead by seniors desiring gowns for commencement activities. The large demand caused by the increased size of graduating classes necessitates this.

Seniors requiring gowns for the swingout must order them before May 24. They will be allowed to keep them for the remainder of the month, including commencement week for the sum of $4.

Orders for commencement week must be in by June 12, and for commencement day only by June 16. Prices for the two last periods are $3 and $2, respectively.

Although the Kamera Kraft shop is not prepared to give out definite figures about how many senior invitations have been ordered, the report is that seniors may go on ordering as yet, although the sooner the orders are in, the better, because the supply is running low.

'FOOD CLINIC' TODAY WILL CHEER HUNGRY

If by chance you have missed your breakfast by getting up late for an 8 o'clock, or if you feel hungry during the morning, the Euthenics club will attend to your case at their "food clinic."

The club will sell sandwiches and doughnuts on the campus near Agricultural hall from 9 to 12 today. In case of rain the booth will be in Agricultural hall.

The purpose of this sale is to raise a fund to help establish a chair in home economics in the Constanti-nople College for Women.

ALL-AMERICAN DEBATE CLASH IS PROPOSED

Champions of Middle West to Meet Pacific Coast Rivals Next Year

Members of the 1920 inter-collegiate debating squad working in conjunction with Emery Olson, instructor in economics and formerly an inter-collegiate debater at the University of Southern California, are behind one of the greatest movements started in a decade to advance forensics. They propose to stage an inter-collegiate debate next year for the championship of America which will rival any recent inter-sectional athletic matches.

The proposition as tentatively announced calls for the selection of the best debaters at Wisconsin, Illinois, and Michigan, who will be formed into one team to be pitted against a team composed of the best individual debater at Southern California, California, and Leland Stanford.

All six schools will debate the same subjects in their respective leagues without decisions while the tilt for the title will be a decision contest. It is hoped that within another year or two it will be possible to cover even a broader field by listing a team from three leading eastern universities.

If the idea is carried out as intended it is altogether likely that the first contest will be held at Madison. Several years ago a team from this university, on invitation best individual debaters at Southern California, debated on the coast. This fact coupled with Wisconsin taking the initiative in the new movement may result in the first contest for premier debating honors being held here.

SENIOR CHIMES FUND IS ONLY HALF RAISED

About $1,000 has been raised in the Memorial Chimes drive, which the committee hopes will be completed before commencement.

"We realize that Prom has prevented some people from pledging their share," said James Lindsey, chairman of the chimes committee, "but we hope that the seniors now will remember their obligations to their class. The committee will be glad to receive checks for $4 from those who have not already sent in their contributions to the fund."

Even Cows Are Agog With Anticipation for "Agric" Prom

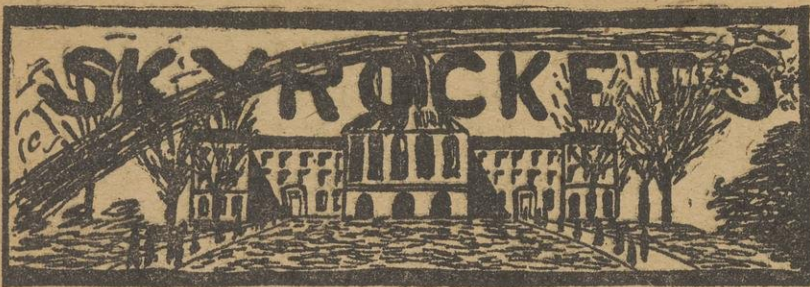

How'd you like to dance in a dairy barn?

Well, the Saddle and Sirlon club is going to hold a barn dance Friday night, and there's your chance.

The cows, which undoubtedly have an inkling of the coming event, are feeling rather frisky. Dean James will vouch for this, for when he was out with the dance committee yesterday inspecting the floor, one of the bovine beauties got friendly and kicked him. He did not reciprocate, however, for the dumb animal obviously was practicing for the dance.

One of the committee had the misfortune to fall down one of the hay chutes while trying to get in training for a square dance with a bale of straw.

Only 100 tickets are on sale, and these can be obtained at Agricultural hall.

LOOKS like the weather just acted nice on account of Prom. Bud must be teacher's pet.

AND speaking of Prom being over, we must remind you that we can no longer excuse your failure to perform your duty to this column. No contribs today mean no—or less—col tomorrow. We trust you will all bear this earnestly in mind.

DOWN at Iowa City they have a humorous magazine, which announces a staff consisting of an editor-in-chief, as well as a humorous editor. Every well-regulated funny book has one, you know.

OCTOPUS MAY ISSUE IS OUT TOMORROW

All copy for the coming number of The Octopus is in the hands of the printers and the paper will go on sale tomorrow.

Those who have seen the material for the coming issue declare that it excels the previous ones for snap and variety. Besides a clever cover by Fred Sperry, "La Vie Wisconsinienne," has many other drawings that are real laugh getters.

Already a call is being sounded for contributions for the June issue which will be entitled, the first Annual Last Number. Because of the examination schedule this will have to appear on June 9. All copy must be in the hands of the editors by May 27. Bits of spicy humor, or acrid sarcasm are acceptable so long as they are original. Short, funny stories of not more than 150 words are wanted. Ideas for cartoons also will be welcomed. All contributions should be put in the boxes that have been placed on the campus for that purpose or taken to the office.

OPEN ENTRY LIST FOR CLASS TENNIS

Entries for the inter-class tennis tournament, singles and doubles, must be handed in at the gym office by Saturday noon, May 22. The winners in each class will play in the finals. The all-university tournament which is now in progress must be completed this week, according to Coach Linden, in order that play may start in the other tournament.

HOW WE HATE OURSELF! "The play itself certainly was better than any student production that was ever put on at Madison." We quote from Mr. Fernberg's statement concerning the Curtain club in Sunday's issue.

THE management of the Curtain club would do well to suppress such opinions, for support will never follow after an organization that so hists itself on its own petard.

REVISE TREATY TO SAVE RACE, URGES LOVETT

America Must Help Russia and Germany, Chicago
Dean Believes

"Racial conflict is inevitable if the world proceeds along its present lines," declared Prof. Robert Morss Lovett, dean of the junior colleges at the University of Chicago, who spoke under the auspices of the Social Science club before a large audience in Music hall last night.

"It is much more important to prevent Russia from throwing herself into the arms of Asia and becoming a gateway for the yellow race than, for example, to see that France holds the left side of the Rhine," he asserted.

America Fitted for Task

"Internationalism is the task toward which America must set her hand. She is specially fitted for this duty because she is not imperialistic, because she is trusted, because she is the only nation that has approximated disinterested treatment of the colored races, as America has done in the Philippines. Furthermore she is trusted because her international operations have been marked by sympathy with national aspirations, and have been mainly along the lines of trade.

"An Anglo-Saxon alliance is not the way to assure the dominance of the white race. Germany is an essential part and reconciliation is necessary to secure the solidarity of the race. America is fitted for this duty.

Urges Treaty Revision

"It has become increasingly evident that the treaty must be revised or break down. Voluntary responsibility must be assumed by Germany, is the growing opinion.

"If the treaty is an issue in its present form in the coming election, it should be defeated and we should fall back on Senator France's scheme of an international conference of nations as a substitute for the league. It would invite such nations as India and Persia, would stand for the independence of such nations and would work for the survival of the white race."

S. G. A. WILL GIVE PICNIC THURSDAY

WANT 50 CLOWNS TO SIGN TODAY FOR THE CIRCUS

Also Need Young Freshmen to Work Way in by Watering
the Elephants

Nearly all details are in readiness and the sawdust is waiting to be spread on the lower campus for the mammoth university circus to be given Saturday.

The parade will start at 12:30 p. m., just an hour before the inter-scholastic track meet. The night performance will begin at 7:30.

Another call for 50 clowns has been issued, asking them to report between 4 and 5:30 p. m. today at the circus office in the Union building. Costumes will be furnished.

Three prizes will be given to the best clowns, as announced by the committee yesterday. There will be two first prizes, one to the best individual clown and one to the best group of "gloom-killers." Second and third prizes also will be given to the next best. The prizes are in the nature of free tickets to all athletic events next year.

Fifty men "who wish to make themselves useful" around the canvas also are asked to report today at 4 p. m.

FRENCH CAST TO GIVE PLAY

"L'Anglais Tel Qu'en Le Parle" Will be Presented Tomorrow Night

A comedy entitled "L'Anglais Tel Qu'en Le Parle" or "English as it is Spoken," written by Tristan Bernard, will be the feature of French night tomorrow at 8 p. m., in Lathrop hall.

Fleeing lovers pursued by an English father whose interpreter lacks a knowledge of the English language is the theme of the play, which is well known both in France and America. It has been given several times in the university with great success. Last month the French Players in Chicago staged it.

The cast, composed chiefly of students from France attending the university, includes Emile Dejean, Marguerite Treille, Alice Salvan, G. E. Chabaud, E. Varlez, G. H. King, J. Salvan, and E. G. Taylor.

Other interesting numbers have been planned.

DRIVE FOR NEW UNION MEMORIAL IN LAST STAGE

May 25 Last Day for Completing Campaign in County

May 25 has been designated as the day for completing the campaign in Dane county for funds for the Union Memorial building at the university.

This action was taken by the committee in charge following a meeting at which reports of progress in the county and elsewhere were received.

Miles C. Riley, Dane county chairman, reported that the campaign among the faculty and students at the university to raise their quota of $100,000 is in its last stages, the amount subscribed to date being in excess of $90,000. He reported also that Sheboygan county was the first county in the state to make final returns, and that the university alumni and friends of the university in that county had exceeded their quota by 50 per cent.

NOW FOR THE MAIN TENT

LESS than four weeks remain before the final examinations begin. Within this time the scholastic record of the majority of students will be made or unmade for the year. It is the old story worn threadbare, of the horse winning or losing the race on the home-stretch.

Of course, any preachment on the subject of "bucking" is apt to be considered at first as a huge bore by the student who had these warnings drummed in his ears by professors all year long. However, carrying a few more coals to Newcastle cannot be otherwise than helpful at this time.

The whole business narrows itself into two considerations: first of these is so obvious that any elaboration would appear ridiculous. But the connection between scholastic standing and school loyalty has never been sufficiently recognized here. Too often the student who would brave wind and rain to cheer the team on to a victory does not hesitate to cut a session of his class if his temperament is incompatible with the weather. It rarely ever occurs to him that he is not loyal to his school; that he is helping to drag down the scholastic standard which counts for vastly more than the athletic standard, important as this is.

After all, the main tent is pitched on the hill. Spending too much time in the side shows defeats the whole purpose of the performance.

Last semester the grades were unusually low all along the line. They will be still lower this semester unless there is a determination to battle against the allurements and charm of spring for four weeks.

It is a call which should appeal to the common sense and school spirit of the whole student body.

Don't slight the main tent.

A STEP IN ADVANCE

AN announcement in another column carries the story of a movement which may mean a complete revolution in the field of forensics. It is a comprehensive scheme which will next year bring to Madison a debate to decide the collegiate championship of America.

Under the proposition as tentatively presented by the 1920 intercollegiate debating squad, the best debater at Wisconsin, Michigan, and Illinois will be formed into one team and pitted against a team composed of the best debater at Leland Stanford, Southern California, and California universities. The representative of each school is to be chosen on the basis of accomplishment in the debates next season.

It is well that Wisconsin takes the lead in this movement. Forensics have long been in need of an extraordinary boost in order to regain its footing as a leading university activity. This proposed contest will be a means of focusing the attention of the entire college world upon an important event to no less a degree than is the case in an intersectional athletic contest.

The debate itself will be a certain means for bringing out more material from which to select teams. It will also keep the debaters working at top speed once they make the team, so that the person who gets the coveted honor of representing his university will more than merit it.

Placing one branch of extra-curricular activities on a permanent annual basis can serve as another valuable stimulus. If it works out successfully in the field of debating, why not try it in football, baseball, and track? The young man who as a senior in high school is looking about for a place to matriculate is tremendously impressed by the school which is the most active.

All-American debating is a step in the right direction and evidence that our activities are not confined to narrow limits.

COMMUNICATIONS

THE SPIRIT OF ANTAGONISM?
To the Editor of The Cardinal:

The Daily Cardinal in its May 13, 1920, issue, has published an editorial, "A Word of Warning," which shows great narrow-mindedness and fear. A movement is under way to urge the next legislature to abolish fraternities and sororities. This movement has not been begun by a small group but by all the non-fraternity and non-sorority students, of which the "small group" you refer to is indeed only a very small percentage.

What "spirit which has prevailed at Wisconsin for many years" are you referring to, Mr. Editor? The spirit of antagonism against those who cannot and would not spend their money on pool-halls, formal, semi-formal, or informal dances and other affairs? Or is it the spirit of antagonism and discrimination against races and classes?

The fraternities and sororities have furnished all the "blind factionalism," and it is up to the liberal-minded students to do away with this pronounced "mock" of our Great Democracy (or is it The-mock-racy?).

You say, "The good of the whole university stands ahead of any individual group or interest." But do the present conditions justify this fine dogma? No, a thousand times no, when only a small minority of students despotically rules a greater majority. Who is in possession of all officers of every class, of the student senate, and others?

In a previous editorial you give a warning to the Prom-goers to use slight discretion in use of liquors and dresses. Useless, Mr. Editor, for that is unfortunately the "spirit" you are so fond of referring to. You warn them because of the approaching meeting of the legislators. Place a veil over their eyes, isn't that it? In such a way the Wisconsin legislators have been bluffed for the last ten years. Wake up, real Wisconsin men and women! Wake up our legislators!

I assure you, Mr. Editor, I am not what you call a "campus Bolshevik." I am with you in your opposition to Bolshevism or Socialism in the United States, but I am for social justice and social equality.

H. CUBE.

BADGER CLUB HEARS OLD INDIAN TALES

The Badger club was addressed Sunday night by the Rev. E. G. Hamley of Ripon, who spoke on "Early Indian Life in Wisconsin." His talk was composed largely of legends and stories related to him by Heinaker, the last of the Winnebago chiefs. One of the legends was about prehistoric white men whom the Indians said lived on the southern shore of Green lake. These are supposed to have been the mound builders.

Earl Brown and Winifred Collier rendered musical selections.

Next Sunday the Mozart club will give a concert on Muir Knoll, at what will be the last Badger club meeting of the year.

Next year's committees are being appointed and will be announced soon.

MOMENT MUSICALE IN F MINOR

By Franz Peter Schubert

Every moment in Schubert's life was a musical one. He was so filled with melody that whenever his eye lighted upon a poem an appropriate tune was forthwith ready for transcribing to paper. One of the loveliest of his songs, "Hark, Hark, the Lark," was written on the back of a menu card which he found lying on a table in a country inn where he chanced upon a copy of Shakespeare's poem.

This dainty little composition with its two charming themes, one in minor, the other in major, and its delightful coda with 'the dying strain,' is slight compared to the Unfinished Symphony, but it is quite as perfect in its workmanship.

SWING LOW SWEET CHARIOT

Negro Spiritual

Only recently have musicians begun to realize the treasures which we possess in the music of the American Indians and Negroes. There is no more beautiful folk music in the world than that which was developed by the slaves of the South. While the beginnings of the simple melodies, intricate rhythms, and forceful harmonies doubtless came from Africa, the more complete development of these elements and especially the amalgamating of them with the quaint texts of religious fervor and unity of labor on cotton field and levee, are distinctly American contributions.

Swing Low, Sweet Chariot is an excellent example of the spiritual or hymn originated by the negroes. Both words and music emphasize the elemental fervor, vivid imaginations, and simple faith which characterize their religious manifestations.

VARSITY MEN RUN AIR LINE

Trio Form Commercial Flying Corporation to Make Daily Flights

A freshman in the Course of Commerce, Frederic J. Sondag, a graduate, Arthur L. Myrlin, '14, and an ex-student, Otto E. Myrdin, ex-'20, are the officers of the Red Arrow Flying corporation in whose new Curtis plane several passengers sail daily above Madison.

Arthur Myrlin is president, Sondag vice-president, and Otto Myrlin secretary of the corporation which was organized "to buy, sell, and deal in airplanes, carry and transport passengers, to operate and navigate airplanes, aircraft and other devices for the purpose of giving exhibition in the art of flying, or to carry and display advertising matter for other concerns.

Sondag pilots the machine on a number of trips daily, and each time carries one passenger. If this passenger wishes, the pilot guides the machine through the "loop" which many people have watched from the streets of Madison the last week. He reports that several women have been entertained with views of the state capitol, the parks and homes of Madison from an altitude of 3,000 or 4,000 feet. One gray-haired man 79 years old has made the trip.

All three of the officers are ex-service men. Arthur Myrlin spent four years in the navy where he attained the rank of lieutenant, senior grade. Sondag held a lieutenancy in an army aviation unit, and acquired his experience at the University of Illinois, Eberts field, Gjerstener field, Louisiana, and Love field, Texas, during part of which service he acted as an instructor. Otto Myrlin was a lieutenant of infantry.

All flights begin and end at Bryant's field about three miles from the state capitol on the fish hatchery road.

TEACH FOLK DANCES TO AMHERST ELEVEN

AMHERST, Mass.—Folk dancing as training for football is being given candidates for the Massachusetts Agricultural college eleven this spring. Instead of lunging and charging against a tackling dummy, husky candidates for places on the "Aggies" line are being taught the intricacies and graces of the English folk dance.

Thirty men, with the broadness of shoulder and bulk of frame necessary to the efficient football lineman, are learning to do gracefully the handkerchief folk dance as "Laudanum Bunches," and to trip lightly through other steps of the old dancing school. For a time they were embarrassed as waving handkerchiefs in air they pirouetted on one toe with an arm and hand extended, but they have since taken to the dance and appear to enjoy it.

The object of the dancing instruction to the football men is to improve the co-ordination of mind and muscle and to keep the players constantly "on their toes."

MILLAR TAKEN TO NEBRASKA

Parents of Accident Victim
Arrive Here to Take Charge

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Millar, parents of W. L. Millar, aged 22, instructor in the college of engineering, who died Saturday afternoon, four hours after his left arm had been torn off from the shoulder by a machine belt, arrived in the city last night and are the guests of Mrs. Bertha M. Hart, 1220 Sherman ave., with whom their son roomed. The body will be taken to North Bend, Neb., their home.

In working at the machine shops Saturday afternoon, he wore long leather gloves, which are responsible for the fatal accident. When the glove on his left hand was caught in a swiftly revolving wheel, his arm was torn from its socket and he was thrown to the cement floor. The impact fractured his skull and he did not regain consciousness when taken to the General hospital. Death came at 7:15 p. m.

SEE SPECIAL SESSION SOON

Eight Bills to be Presented Are Already in Printer's Hands

That the call for the special session of the legislature is close is indicated by the fact that eight of the bills to be considered at the special session have been sent to the state printer. These will be immediately set up. There were indications at the capitol Monday afternoon that the call for the session would be out in a day or so and that it is quite likely to be either next Tuesday or Wednesday. There are some who have asked that the session be not called until June 1.

The fact that the bills are being put into type is an indication that there is now to be little delay with reference to the legislative call.

WANT OF NEAR EAST IS ACUTE

H. P. Davison Pleads for U. S. Aid to Europe

DES MOINES — Henry P. Davison, of J. P. Morgan and company, chairman of the board of governors of the League of Red Cross societies, told the general conference of the Methodist Episcopal church here today that "one of the most terrible tragedies in the history of the human race is being enacted within the broad belt of territory lying between the Baltic and Black and the Adriatic seas."

In this area are the new Baltic states, Poland, Czecho-Slovakia, Ukraine, Austria, Hungary, Rumania, Montenegro, Albania and Serbia.

Mr. Davison asked that congress immediately appropriate not exceeding $500,000,000 for the use of the countries of central and Eastern Europe. He requested that congress call upon the president to appoint a non-political commission of three Americans, which should survey the conditions in these countries and allocate materials to them without interference. He suggested for members of the type of Gen. Pershing, Herbert Hoover and Former Secretary Lane. He said that he had no doubt that the obligation would be repaid and suggested it should run for 15 years.

He urged also that the United States invite other governments in a position to assist and participate in the undertaking.

The sum suggested by Mr. Davison for appropriation by congress exceeds the total of all the Red Cross has expended in the war and since, which is placed by him at approximately $400,000,000.

POPPY DAY FOR THE BOYS "OVER THERE" MAY 31

Poppy day is to be observed May 31, according to a letter received by the Association of Commerce from Poppy Week headquarters in New York. The poppy is the official flower of the A. E. F., the idea having originated from the poem, In Flanders Field, by Dr. John McCrae, and it is thought to be a fitting memorial that everyone should wear a poppy on Decoration day for the boys "Over There."

"If Madison people wish to observe the day in this way," said Don E. Mowry, secretary of the association, "we would be glad to order a large quantity of artificial poppies. It would not be advisable to order them, however, without knowing the sentiment of the people here. Persons interested are asked to telephone to the association."

Industrial Body Warns Motorists

The industrial commission has issued a warning to motorists not to buy lenses which depend upon the principle of diffusing light symmetrically through a wide angle. All devices to meet the new requirements must throw the great bulk of the light below the level of the headlights.

HOUSING PROBLEM TO BE AIRED AT CAPITOL MEET

Prof. Macklin to Lead Discussion on Tuesday Night

Heads of the state departments and professors from the university who are holding weekly meetings at the capitol on Tuesday evenings to study taxation problems, the high cost of living, rents, and housing conditions, will meet again tomorrow night when Prof. Macklin will give a report on housing conditions in Milwaukee, Madison and other cities and lead a discussion suggested by the report. With him on the committee on housing are Edward Nordman, market director, and John Harrington, of the income tax department.

At the last meeting, Prof. B. G. Hibbard of the College of Agriculture, spoke of the relation of taxation to the land question and to land values, discussing the relationship of taxation to the increase of available land for actual farming. While acknowledging the force of Mr. Harrington's previous advocacy of taxing land values, Prof. Hibbard contended that it would work injustice to the present owners of land, although such a system if instituted in newly settled countries might prove satisfactory.

CARRANZA IS STILL FUGITIVE

Governor of Vera Cruz Escapes to Join President

BULLETIN

MEXICO CITY — Tampico was captured with bloodshed Sunday noon, according to an announcement made at headquarters of Gen. Obregon, candidate for the presidency of Mexico, early today.

VERA CRUZ—Gen. Aguilar, governor of Vera Cruz state, and son-in-law of Pres. Carranza, who has been virtually a prisoner of revolutionary forces near Orizaba for the past week, escaped last night. It is believed he is trying to join Carranza who fled into the mountains near Chalchicomula on Friday and who, so far as known, has not yet been located. Gen. Aguilar has with him about 300 farmers.

Pursuit of Carranza is being vigorously pushed by revolutionary forces which fought a grim battle with Carranza near Rhineconada last week. Gen. Medina left here today to intercept Carranza if he attempts to reach the state of Vera Cruz.

Lack of food and water lowered the morale of Carranza's men so that their defeat was a comparatively easy task, says a dispatch from the battle zone.

During the flight from Mexico City there was little for the soldiers to eat and the men suffered terribly from thirst. Gen. Liberado Torres, who was wounded in the fighting on May 13, and was later brought to this city for treatment, died yesterday.

One hundred and four contests have already been filed and in addition a half dozen states have elected more delegates than they are entitled to, with the result that the contest committee will have to eliminate part of the delegations under the contest rule.

GUN AND BLADE PROVIDES FOR MAIMED BUDDY

Veterans Vote Flowers for Infirmary Instead of for Co-eds

By ADRIAN SCOLTEN

The accompanying poem appeared on the first page of the April number of The Red Cross Magazine. It was written by Stewart Lake just before he went to the operating table for the third time.

The sentiment expressed is that which thousands of totally disabled soldiers feel and it is being published as a gentle reminder that the totally disabled soldier may not be forgotten.

Even now only a few months after the end of hostilities, in large army hospitals in the United States many bed-ridden soldiers who sacrificed everything except their lives, spend day after day in the dreary, tiresome atmosphere of an army hospital without receiving any indication that they are in truth not forgotten.

Lonely Soldier at Infirmary

In the infirmary of the University of Wisconsin is a man who spent months in France, who is now totally disabled, who cannot continue training at the university because his stay in the infirmary has exceeded the time which an exacting government allows. This man spent almost a month in a bed without anyone coming three to see him.

The truth is the man has no material needs and seems perfectly contented, but it is wondered whether a visit from kind-hearted women of good judgment would not make the long hours pass more quickly and whether this would not always be gratefully remembered by the disabled soldier.

Comrades Remember "Buddy"

Gun and Blade, an organization composed only of students who were disabled in the service, since they heard about the prolonged illness of this "buddy" of theirs, are sending him flowers, visiting him, and doing those things which women do so much better.

At a meeting of the club last night in the engineering building tickets were sold to men whose disability is such that they are still able to dance. The dance, next Friday at the Woman's building, will be a semi-formal affair, the girls wearing party gowns if they wish, but no men wearing dress suits. At last night's meeting of Gun and Blade the question of whether taxis and flowers would constitute a part of the dance program was quickly settled to the satisfaction of all present.

Vote Down, Taxis

Men who hiked hundreds of miles with full packs weighing down their shoulders could not see why girls on the night of the dance could not walk to the Woman's building. The presenting of flowers to the girls was voted down. Flowers will be sent to men whenever they are forced to return to a hospital. The hall itself will be decorated with palms and ferns.

The president of Gun and Blade is at present in the hospital, where he went for an operation. He is not yet discharged from the service. As soon as he gets out of the hospital the Gun and Blade baseball team will be organized. It is to begin its spring training with 22 men.

Present officers of Gun and Blade include Lt. E. M. Boerke, president; M. W. Brown, secretary; R. J. Koelsch, treasurer; E. H. Myrland, chairman social committee; and Herman Dusterhoft, sergeant-at-arms.

The Totally Disabled

By Stewart N. Lake

Most of the guys we knew in France,
Are back in civil life,
Where the only reminder that war
is hell,
Is a scrap now and then with the wife;—

But we must battle on and on
And never dare to quit,
For a brand new fight is on our hands
And we must do our bit—
We're Totally Disabled!

Up from the South the warm wind comes
With the news of another Spring,
And the guys we knew in the A.
E. F.

Are out where the birdies sing;
The blood in our veins is just as red
As it was three years ago,
And we still can yearn to the thrill
of sport,
Though it's all in vain, we know—
We're Totally Disabled!

Most of the guys we soldiered with
Can answer the season's call;—
They'll be up in the stands or out on the lot

When the umpire yells "Play ball!"—
We can only squirm in our plaster casts,
Or shift our crutches a bit,
And memory must substitute
For the whang of the three-base hit!—
We're Totally Disabled!

In the stirring warmth of the sportsman's sun
The whole of the world's at play,
And the gang we knew in the A.
E. F.

Is out in the van, they say;—
But we must do our playing, now,
On the field of some sporting sheet,
And play a game that is new and tough,
And never brook defeat—
You can't when you're disabled!

Eighty bucks, the government says,
Is to be our monthly pay;—
A million a month could never make up

For the unsated urge to play!
You guys that we knew in the A.
E. F.

When the fame gets hot, recall
That, mentally, every one of us,
Is in there, lamming the ball!—
Though totally disabled!

Farm Festivity to Feature Picnic of 'Ags' and 'Home Ec'

"Wait Till the Cows Come Home" or "How You Goin' to Keep 'Em Down on the Farm," or maybe even the good old favorite, "I Love the Cows and Chickens," will be the prevailing anthem of the husky "Ags" and the buxom "Home Ecs" when they get together for the first annual Ag-Home Ec picnic tomorrow night at the Raimer farm near Second point.

There has been some discussion about the question of cow hide boots, blue denim jeans, and milk-maid attire, but the committee decided that such a discrimination might appear undemocratic in these days of the "aristocracy of the soil," so the usual picnic attire will be in vogue. There will, however, be a delightfully rustic, back-to-the-farm atmosphere about the gathering that promises to beat any home-town church social or corn-husking bee on record.

Track contests between the Husky Home Ecs and the Athletic Ags feature the entertainment planned by the social committee. Rolling pins and other home-like implements may be substituted for baseball bats and the rest of the equipment. At any rate there will be a general air of farm festivity about the occasion that will mark it as a rurally realistic round-up.

Caryl Parkinson is the chairman of the social committee of the A. C. F. board and as such has charge of the food 'n everything. Can you imagine anything better than an honest-and-truly home Ec picnic feed?

By canoe, by car, or on foot are the three ways suggested to reach the picnic ground. The pasteboard potatoes which are the tickets of admission are limited in number and can be secured for 35 cents from any of the committee. In case of rain the picnic will be held next week.

MOTHERS' MEET HERE IN JUNE

University Sponsors Congress Program That Will Draw 300 Delegates

Three hundred delegates from all parts of the country will attend the National Congress of Mothers and Parent-Teacher associations in Madison, June 318, under auspices of the university.

Child welfare work in all its aspects will be illustrated in the state capitol by exhibits contributed by the children's bureau, Washington, the McCormick Memorial fund, the National Child Welfare association, and others.

Many speakers of nation and state-wide will address the congress on various problems relating to child welfare, education, Americanization, mothers' circles, parent-teacher associations, kindergarten extension, federal and state legislation, problems of rural life, better films, international duties, and similar questions. One session will be devoted to the Interchurch World movement.

The National Congress of Mothers was established in 1897, on Feb. 17, which has since been named Child Welfare day. In 1915 the name was made to include parent-teachers associations. Since its organization it has secured mothers' pensions in 39 states, the establishment of departments of child hygiene in many states, and among the projects it is urging now are that congress make the home education division a permanent part of the bureau of education and that better probation systems be established.
