TO INSTALL PHI ETA SIGMA HERE MONDAY, MAY 16

55 Freshmen Men Elected to
New Chapter of Honorary Society

High scholarship of male freshmen at the University of Wisconsin will be recognized this year and in the future by election to the honorary society, Phi Eta Sigma, a chapter of which will be installed at the state university on Monday, May 16.

The 55 freshmen just chosen to be charter members will be initiated into the society by Scott H. Goodnight, dean of men at the Badger university, and Deans Raymond Glos and Fred H. Turner, assistants to Thomas Arkle Clark, dean of men at the University of Illinois, and H. E. Schlenz, senior adviser of the Phi Eta Sigma chapter at Illinois.

Founded by Dean Clark
Dean Clark founded Phi Eta Sigma at the University of Illinois in 1923. Other chapters since have been installed at the Universities of Michigan, Missouri, and Oklahoma, and Purdue university.

For entrance into the society an average grade of 2.5—about 90 in terms of percentage grades—during the first semester of the freshman year is required. Members become inactive upon attaining sophomore standing.

18 Dorm Residents

The charter members of the Wisconsin chapter constitute approximately 3 per cent of the 1,655 freshmen who entered the university at the beginning of the present academic year. Exactly 18 of the group of 55 are residents in the men's dormitories opened at the university last fall. Forty-six of the group are from Wisconsin homes.

President Glenn Frank and Junior Deans Harry Glicksman, F. W. Roe, A. V. Millar and J. A. James will become honorary members of Phi Eta Sigma at the installation services. Dean Goodnight was made an honorary member by the Illinois chapter on April 7.

Charter members of the Wisconsin chapter were announced today by Dean Goodnight as follows:

CHINESE RESIDENT TO SPEAK TONIGHT

Philip T. Gillet Will Lecture on
"What Next in China?"

"What next in China?" is the subject of a lecture to be given by Mr. Philip L. Gillet in the assembly chamber of the Capitol at 8 o'clock tonight. Mr. Gillet recently returned from China after fifteen years residence in Nanking.

"Our troops and gunboats in China are looked upon by the Chinese as hostile acts of imperialism, he explained. "They look upon us with an unfriendly fear of this imperialism, whereas we were their friends before this time. While China is carrying on her civil war, we, the Americans, have sent gunboats and troops into their harbors. In Honkong harbor the English, who seized considerable land from the Chinese at the time when the government was less powerful than it is at the present time, have twenty gunboats; the Americans have ten gunboats in the same harbor."

"The fact that they are stationed in their harbors makes the Chinese feel that we are trying to wait our chance to seize some of their property—a feeling we do not wish them to have. We want to keep up a friendly feeling with the Chinese, but we can never do it by putting our gunboats in their city harbors."

The talk will be open to anyone interested. Dean Russell's recent talk on China will be correlated with these latest developments in the Chinese situation explained by one who is in constant touch with China.

Day By Day With The News

By C. O. S.

Despite determined search, no trace of the plane in which Capts. Charles Nungesser and Francois Coli attempted their flight from Paris to New York has been found. Searchers take heart in the fact that Harry Hawker and MacKenzie-Grieve were found after ill fate overtook them in their trans-Atlantic flight of 1919. They remember also how the late Commander Rogers was rescued with his companions from a seaplane that floated for many days in the Pacific.

United Press dispatches set the death toll from floods at 350 and the toll from tornadoes at 228. Land covered by flood waters is estimated at 14,000 square miles.

In the Legislature

For a second time the Wisconsin assembly voted yesterday not to abolish the present highway commission in favor of a full time salaried commission. The vote was 50 to 40 on a motion to reconsider the bill which was killed last week.

A bill introduced by Assemblyman Wallace Ingalls, Racine, providing for the repeal of personal property taxes and the increase of income taxes to make up the loss of revenue was defeated 71-17 in the assembly yesterday.

Italy's View On Armament

Apropos to the failure of the preliminary disarmament conference to accomplish anything tangible in the way of plans for international disarmament, comes an explanation of Italy's position. It is made by Giacomo Martignone, Italian journalist. In this week's Independent Mr. Martignone gives a clear cut statement that expresses the view of the majority of small nations on disarmament. In part it reads:

"Disarmament cannot be obtained by the air, and naval fleets. It is by determining the relations of equality between the forces of military, the air, and naval fleets. It is impossible to consider all the factors of the military force of the nation, with its geographical position, its economic power, and its ability to transform every energy into military activity in times of war. Dangerous hypotheses would be created by this method to the advantage of the stronger nations, and smaller nations would be subordinated by such limitations."

Johnny, get your gun! The nation won't disarm.

Tragedy In Air Races

With Capts. Nungesser and Coli apparently lost in the Atlantic, tragedy can be said to have followed the transatlantic flights four times.

Last fall the giant Sikorsky plane of Rene Fouck crashed on the runway of Roosevelt field killing two assistants. April 16, "America" Commander Byrd's plane, fell injuring Byrd and his helpers, Floyd Bennett and Lieut. George Noville. Again on April 26, Commander Noel Davis and Lieut. Stanton H. Wooster were killed when the "American Legion" crashed in a marsh near Hampton, Virginia, while making a trial flight.

Today of the announced contenders for the Raymond Orteig prize of $25,000 offered for the first successful New York-Paris flight, only Clarence D. Chamberlin and Bert Acosta, endurance record holders, remain.

"Hope springs eternal in the human breast," and Chamberlin and Acosta will make the attempt next Saturday.

A PROCLAMATION

Recognizing the fact above all other present needs of undergraduates comes the Memorial Union building, and feeling that the time is ripe for the class of 1930 to make its full contribution to the completion of the building, a group of representative men and women of our class has unanimously decided to conduct, on May 17, 18, and 19, a class drive for life membership pledges to the Memorial Union.

Sensing the desire of our class to close the year with some significant accomplishments, the days May 17-20 are hereby proclaimed as "30 week," a week in which we shall unite in work and play, closing our campaign days with a great celebration at the cap night bonfire to be held May 20.

We are relying on every class member to help us to realize our campaign slogan, "Every Freshman a Life Member—Now!"

JEROME SPERLING,
President, Class of 1930.

RUSCHA CALLS FOR PAYMENT OF DUES

Senior Class Treasurer Explains Purposes to Which Funds are Devoted

A call has again been issued by Gordon J. Ruscha '27, treasurer of the senior class, for the payment of senior dues.

Ruscha claims 400 seniors have not yet paid.

As there has been some question as to what the $5 is used for, Ruscha explains that $2 is for the first year's alumni dues, $1 for the class memorial which will be decided on at the next meeting, $1 go towards a $100 trust fund for future class reunions, and $1 for miscellaneous expenses including such affairs as class play and graduation functions.

Seniors who have not paid their dues cannot order class invitations, nor will they be considered as members in good standing.

The invitations are on sale at the Co-Op now; the deadline date has not been reached but has been set as May 17.

Letters have been sent to all delinquent seniors. Dues may be paid at the Administration building or at the Co-Op.

W. S. G. A. Ruling Extends Visiting Hours at Houses

It was unanimously voted at the board meeting of W. S. G. A. last night to allow women to entertain guests in dormitories and sorority houses until 12 o'clock on Friday and Saturday nights and on all nights directly preceding vacations.

This rule replaces the former statement made by W. S. G. A. to the effect that if they did not go out women had to send men home at 11 o'clock. The purpose of the new rule as explained by Dean Nardin is to afford women a better opportunity to entertain men at their own houses.

FITZGERALD AND GRUBE ELECTED '29 BADGER HEADS

Editor and Business Manager
Elected by Board
Yesterday

William K. Grube was elected editor of the 1929 Badger and Walter J. Fitzgerald was chosen business manager at the meeting of the Badger board held yesterday in the University club.

Grube has been working for the Badger since his freshman year. He is affiliated with the Delta Chi fraternity and lives in Sheboygan.

Grube is Sure of Help

"I feel sure that the next year's staff will give its best to produce a Badger equal to this year's publication," Grube said after his election. "I know that the business end of the paper will be competently handled by the new business manager."

Fitzgerald began his work for the Badger last fall. He is a member of the Phi Gamma Delta fraternity and lives in Wauwatosa.

Thoma Comments

Harry C. Thoma, editor of the 1928 Badger, commented on the election:

"Three men were in line for the editor's position. The competition was severe. Grube was chosen because he had had experience in all divisions of the book."

The members of the Badger board are Isabel A. Cunningham, Dorothy M. Stenjem, John S. Bess, and Charles V. Dollard.

Elmer W. Freytag and Ewart L. Merica are the senior members. Prof. Grant M. Hyde of the Course in Journalism is the faculty adviser of the board.

UNION DANCES ARE BACK AT LATHROP

Poor Weather Causes Board to Abandon Use of Bernard's
Park

Because of the delayed spring weather and the difficulties of transportation, Union Board decided at its meeting yesterday noon to bring its weekend dances back from Bernard's park to Lathrop hall.

The board also appointed Gordon Dawson '28, Franklin Orth '28, and Francis Woolard '29 a committee to consider the matter of holding Union Vodvil next year and designated Charles Dollard '28, and James Hanks '29, senior and junior manager, respectively of Union Board dances during the coming year.

The Union Board dances were first moved to Bernard's resort three weeks ago. At that time it was expected that the management of the park would run boats to accommodate students who did not possess cars.

Because wet weather has postponed the painting of the boats, the board experimented with bus transportation last week. Yesterday it was voted to abandon this attempt and return the dances to the university campus.

POTTER EDITOR OF LEAGUE COVENANT

Political Science Professor Completes Work on International Document

Prof. Pitman B. Potter, of the political science department, is the editor of a new edition of the covenant of the League of Nations just published by the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace.

The publication contains the English and French texts of the covenant, printed on opposite pages, with a marginal outline of the English text and with article and paragraphs numbered in accordance with the action taken by the assembly of the league last fall.

In addition, Prof. Potter has prepared an extended index-digest of the contests of the covenant and has contributed brief essays on the activities of various league organs by way of interpreting officially the text of the covenant and commenting on the literature of private or unofficial interpretation by French, German, English, and American scholars.

Evelyn Olson '27, will end her undergraduate dramatic career in the role of Ann, the heroine of Sutton Vane's drama, "Outward Bound" to be presented by the Wisconsin Players at the dedication of the new Bascom theater next week.

Besides the part of Ann in "Outward Bound" Miss Olson has appeared in several other Wisconsin

Evelyn Olson '27

Players productions. She was in the cast of "You and I," the last year's prom play, and appeared in the summer school production of the same vehicle. Prior to this production Miss Olson was in the casts of "One Egg" and "The Constant Lover."

Before coming to the university, Miss Olson was prominent in the dramatic activities of the Rockford high school. She is a member of Kappa Alpha Theta sorority.

Bunch of Bananas Brings Tarantula for Biology Exhibit

Last week it was cockroaches—now it's a tarantula which is on exhibit in the Biology building. This large and very hairy spider, who came to Madison via a bunch of grocery store bananas, sits sullenly at the bottom of a covered milk bottle, perhaps in hurt dignity that a spider who is even reputed, however falsely, to be able "to jump 40 feet and bite while he is still jumping" should be thus humbly imprisoned.

Contrary to common opinion there are but few authentic reports of fatalities from a tarantula bite.

The tarantula got its name from the old Castalian superstition that the victim of a bite could be cured by dancing the Spanish dance "Tarantula."

Dr. Miner Talks on Chemists, Patents; Feted at Banquet

Doctor C. F. Miner, director of the Miner's Laboratory, Chicago, spoke on "Chemists and Patents" last night in the Chemistry auditorium. The lecture was under the auspices of the American Chemistry society.

In addition to being director of the Miner's Laboratory he is very interested in chemical jurisprudence and his organization is responsible for developing sursural and its derivatives. They also succeeded in placing sursural in a rather limited group of organized solvents which can be had at reasonable price.

A dinner was held at the University club last evening in his honor, members of the American Chemistry society being present.

COMPLETE PLANS FOR DANCE DRAMA

Orchesis to Give Presentation in Open-air Theater
May 27-28

The Dance Drama, each year among the memorable events of Mother's Weekend, will be presented by members of Orchesis in the open-air theater Friday and Saturday evenings, May 27-28.

Since its origin in Madison eight years ago the drama has been adopted by the Universities of Arizona, Michigan, Nebraska, Oregon, Washington, Iowa, Wesley college, and various preparatory and normal schools where friends of former students of Miss Margaret H'Doubler have formed Orchesis groups.

The Orchesis group at Wisconsin, at present numbering 36, is composed of university women who, under the supervision of Miss H'Doubler, devote one evening each week to a consideration of the problems of the dance. The annual spring program is a cooperative effort of the group to share with friends and visiting members its conception of the Dance.

The customary program consists of individual and group work in addition to the Dance Drama proper, a narrative of action built around a central theme. Dorothy Kornhauser '29, composer of the music for last year's presentation, "Once Upon a Time," is again working on the scores.

The new theme has not yet been announced although rehearsals are in progress according to Bernice Gelder, '28, general manager, who reports the following staff:

Business manager—Emma Lakin '28; assistant—Betty Thompson, grad and Harriet Smith '27.

Publicity—Genevieve Jones '28, and Mary McKee '28.

Programs—Lila Hicks '27, and Emilia Hopkins '27.

Costumes—Ione Johnson '27, chairman; Barbara Noyes '29, Marion Vedder '28, and Helen Zeimet '28.

Freshmen women at the University of Illinois are urged to take a course in freshman education which is sponsored by Woman's League at that University. The freshman woman receiving the highest average in the monthly examinations given is awarded a large silver cup. The course consists of lectures on campus tradition and societies.

MU PHI EPSILON CONCERT TONIGHT

Honorary Music Sorority to Give Proceeds to Memorial Union

Mu Phi Epsilon, the only national honorary music sorority, each year presents a spring concert, the proceeds of which have hitherto been turned toward the scholarship fund. This year the entire proceeds will be given to the Memorial Union for the development of the music room. The concert will be held tonight in Music hall.

Much interested attaches to the persons appearing on the program.

Thelma Halverson, soprano, was awarded first place in the State Artists' music contest in Milwaukee last March. She is soloist at Christ Presbyterian church and for Madison Maennercher concert this year. She sang at the state music convention in Racine in April and appeared in artist recital with Elsa Chandler in December. She has traveled with the St. Olaf choir.

Dorothy Hess, pianist, was awarded first place in state artists' music contest. She is president of Clef Club, women's university musical organization.

Sylvia Meyer, harpist, is soloist for Women's Concert Glee Club, and for the University orchestra.

Mary Watts, violinist, is a pupil of Cecil Burleigh. She appeared in a senior recital with Marion Pelton. Miss Watts will play "In Algeria," the composer of which, Winifred Ryan, is a member of the local chapter of Mu Phi Epsilon.

Alice Johns and Marion Pelton, both of whom have appeared in graduating recitals this spring will present two two-piano compositions, "Polonaise," and "Valse," both by Arensky. Miss Johns has been University Womens' Concert Glee Club accompanist for two years, and has won the Mu Phi scholarship for three years. Miss Pelton has toured the state this winter with the Chicago Artist Series, has accompanied the university orchestra for two years and is a Juilliard scholar.

Leota Cole, soprano, is a senior in the university School of Music and has been a member of the Women's Concert Glee club for two years.

Elsa Chandler will accompany all violin and voice numbers. She will appear May 31 as soloist for the Madison Civic Symphony Orchestra and has appeared in the Artist recital here with Miss Thelma Halverson in December. She was originally a member of Mu Xi chapter Epsilon at the American Conservatory in Chicago.

Freshmen women at the University of Illinois are urged to take a course in freshman education which is sponsored by Woman's League at that University. The freshman woman receiving the highest average in the monthly examinations given is awarded a large silver cup. The course consists of lectures on campus tradition and societies.

Trackmen Go to Quad Meet Without Kreuz and Braatz

Badgers Meet Three Strong
Teams at Evanston
Saturday

The Wisconsin track team, weakened by the loss of Robert Kreuz, and Clayton O. Braatz will leave for Northwestern tomorrow to compete in the quadrangular meet with Chicago, Ohio, and Northwestern, in the new Purple stadium.

Kreuz's shoulder has been ailing for two weeks, and Coach T. E. Jones thinks it wiser to keep him out of this meet in order that he will be in condition for the conference meet.

Braatz Pulls Tendon
Braatz, Badger high jumper, will not be able to enter his event because he is still suffering from a pulled tendon which he suffered last Saturday. Braatz had just finished a jump of 5 feet 11 inches when he pulled the tendon. He was, however, able to tie with McGinnis to win this jump. Coach Jones expects to keep Braatz out of competition until the conference meet.

Coach Jones said yesterday that he doesn't expect Capt. "Chuck" McGinnis to be in the best condition for the coming meet, but he will take him along. McGinnis' ankle has been hampering his efforts for the past few weeks.

Meets Strong Men
Coach Jones openly admitted that he did not expect McGinnis to walk away with as many firsts as it is his custom to do. McGinnis will have keen competition in each of his three events. In the high jump he will be forced to match his strength with Burg of Chicago who has done better than 6 feet 5 inches this year.

In the pole vault he will meet a vaulter that has done better than 13 feet. Irwin, of Ohio, has an even chance to beat out McGinnis in the high hurdles unless the Badger star is at his best.

Ohio Favored

Ohio reigns as favorite to win the meet because as yet little is known of the team. It is commonly known that the Buckeyes have numerous men of ability, but other coaches are fearing the showing of the recruiting on his squad.

Chicago won its first meet last week, as did Northwestern. The latter team will make a great effort to win the meet because of its strength in the weight events.

Lewis and Karsten of Northwestern are the favorites in the shot put. Coach Jones believes that Northwestern will take all three places, with Bagge winning the third place.

Maroons Strong

The Purple team is also strong in the discus throw, with Lewis again as the star. He has done better than 130 feet in the discus. Bagge also stars in this event, as does Dart. Northwestern will thus be able to pile up a lead in the weight events that will be hard to overtake.

Chicago is strong in the high jump, quarter and the half mile, and the hurdles. Burke, Chicago quarter miler, will pit his strength against Dougan, the Badger star. Williams, Chicago, has turned in the best time of the year in the half mile. His time was 1:59 flat.

Although five men are entered in each event, it is probable that Coach Jones will only use three in each.

List Entries

Entries are as follows:
120 yard hurdles—McGinnis, Pahmeyer, and Murphy; 100 yard dash—Smith, Shaw and Hunkel; one mile run—Petaja, Bullamore and Schwenger.

Quarter mile—Dougan, Stowe, Chamberlin, and Kanalz; 220 yard dash—Smith, Shaw, Hunkel; half mile—Erickson, Chamberlin, Payne and Stowe.

220 yard low hurdles—Stehr, Eisele, Murphy, and Pahmeyer; Two mile run—Zola, Gumbreck, S. Zola and Payne. One mile relay—Dougan, Stowe, Kanalz, Smith.

Pole vault—McGinnis, Fox and Mayer; shot put—Wagner, Muegge, Pence; discuss throw—Cameron, Wagner, Evinrude.

Running high jump—McGinnis, Bueckner, Momsen. Hammer throw—Bushnell, Evinrude, Baumann, and

TRAINING TABLE TIPS FOR THE THIRD TIME

BAD NEWS
INJURIES AGAIN

Fine baseball game they didn't play yesterday wasn't it,

If the Wisconsin baseball team does nothing else this season, it will probably establish a record for being rained out of some of the best ball parks in the Middle West.

Northwestern's choice group of ball-murders will hit town Saturday, bringing mostly bad news. Luke Johnson, batting star of the Wildcats, just loves Randall field because he thinks it's such a cue trick to make a fielder hunt the ball underneath the stadium. Nice boy, Luke.

Coach "Dad" Vail had something to feel pessimistic about when he discovered that Jeff Burrus, football player, pamphleteer and soon-to-be Oxonian, was flat in bed instead of being at the stroke oar in the varsity crew. If Burrus is as seriously ill as he appears to be now, the chances of the crew are even less rosy than they looked at first.

Meanwhile, that other reverse optimists, Tom Jones, weaves a tale of sorrow about the track team. If we remember rightly, Coach Jones picked Wisconsin to score about 3 1/2 points in the Wetsern conference indoor meet. His estimate is not quite so low on the forthcoming quadrangular meet, but he still cannot be accused of overconfidence.

Funny part of it is the Wisconsin chances for Saturday are not blindingly brilliant. With Red Kreuz and Braatz clear out of it, and McGinnis still a bit weak from his ankle injury, at least ten points are paraded away from the predictable point total for the Badgers. How much does that leave?

Coach Winterle seeds frosh tennis players. We knew they were green, but we didn't think they had to be seeded.

Women's Sports, Held up by Rain, at Last Get Started; Offer Golfing

Because women's spring sports have been delayed by bad weather for the last three weeks very little actual outdoor work has been done.

Muddy condition of the ground in general has prevented the selection of class teams in tennis, baseball, track and archery and the work in horseback riding, golf and canoeing is somewhat behind schedule.

There are 70 women enrolled in golf who are playing or being instructed in the technique of the game. This is the first spring sport term that golf has been offered as an accredited sport by the women's physical education department.

The experiment is on probation and if the women follow the rules and fill all the requirements, golf will be continued as an accredited sport.

Miss Gladys Gorman, faculty head of golf, is taking entries for a tournament in putting, driving and a nine hole contest. The tournament will be held, weather permitting, May 23. Next year class and varsity teams will be selected.

Hold Team Tryouts

Class practice for archery team tryouts are being held weekly at 4:30 o'clock Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays. Teams will be chosen in time to be announced at Women's Field Day, May 23.

Team candidates for track have been practicing the various events for the past three weeks. Miss Fredericka Mosseron, faculty head, of track, has asked more upper

C. D. A.

A delightful February day which appeared on the calendar three months behind time prevented the Madison Blues and the Wisconsin baseball team from engaging in their scheduled base-hit contest on Breese Stevens field yesterday.

Both Coach Guy S. Lowman of the Badgers and Manager Eddie Lenahan of the Blues decided that such heavy weather would probably be ruinous, not only to an athletic temperament but also to a schoolboy complexion, in consequence of which they agreed to postpone the little tiff until it can be played without overcoats.

Third Wash-Out

It was the third time during the past ten days that the Wisconsin nine has been prevented from taking its daily bat-swinging exercise by unsteady weather.

Northwestern's strong team, members of which are reported to hold a contract with Spalding's for losing 13 balls per game, will arrive in Madison Saturday. While here it is assumed they will participate in a game with Wisconsin, but that is a purely hypothetical assumption hinged rather tightly upon whether the rainy season does or does not continue.

Wildcat Heavy Hitters

At the present writing, the Wildcats are hanging to third place in the Big Ten race. They have a reputation for rude manners at the plate and have knocked most of the pitchers they have faced into the latter part of next season.

Although the Wisconsin nine has had to take most of its practice standing still this week, the team is in good condition and will present its strongest front for Northwestern Saturday.

FROSH CINDER STARS TO RACE MINNESOTA

The freshman track team, victor over frosh teams from Michigan and Ohio State in telegraphic meets last week, will compete tomorrow for marks to be sent in against Minnesota. Many members of the yearling squad have made exceptionally good marks in outdoor competition, and the Badgers are favored to repeat their close indoor victory over the Gopher freshmen.

WOMEN'S SPORTS, HELD UP BY RAIN, AT LAST GET STARTED; OFFER GOLFING

classmen to turn out for practices as there are not enough out at present from which to select representative teams.

Start Tennis Matches

Intra-class competition is being held in tennis to determine the best candidates for class and varsity teams. These games will be played off in the next two weeks and teams will be picked and announced May 21. The inter-class final games will be played at Women's field day, May 28.

Miss Gladys Gorman's class on camp leadership is starting laboratory work at the W. A. A. cottage on Lake Mendota this weekend. There will be two weekends of this work. Daily schedules have been made which represent the ideal routine of camp. Classes and work will be conducted in outdoor cooking, nature work, hiking, scouting, making fires and doing camp work. A committee has been appointed to help in the routine for both week ends.

Women's intramural competition is going off about according to schedule. Sixteen teams are entered in the round robin baseball tournament and there are seven to a team. There are 16 tennis teams with two to a team. Ten track teams have been organized with 6 or more to a team. Track competition has been divided into three meets. Winners of these tournaments will be announced at Women's field day, May 28.

J. BURRUS, STROKE OF VARSITY CREW GOES TO HOSPITAL

Serious illness which yesterday sent Jefferson Burrus, stroke of the varsity crew, to the hospital left a great gap in the working personnel of the Cardinal shell.

Burrus had been ill for two days before it was decided to send him to the hospital. His exact condition is still in doubt and will be until he has been under observation a while longer.

Edward Kesting, who was rowing No. 6 in the shell has been moved into the stroke position, while Schmeckebier of the junior varsity, has been given a temporary shot at No. 6. The strength of the crew is noticeably impaired by Burrus' absence, and critics believe it will be almost a death-blow to Wisconsin hopes, if he cannot return to active rowing.

Fraternity Golf Matches Played

Several first round matches of the inter-fraternity golf tournament have already been played off and arrangements have been made for the playing of most of the rest of them before the end of the week.

Sigma Chi, Phi Gamma Delta, Phi Kappa Sigma, and Pi Kappa Alpha proceeded into the second round by victories won last week. The Sig Chis defeated Phi Pi Phi, the Phi Gams, Beta Theta Pi, the Phi Kaps, Theta Delta Chi, and the PiKa's, Kappa Sigma.

Other matches in first round play include, Theta Chi vs. Tau Kappa Epsilon, Phi Kappa Tau vs. Phi Kappa Psi, Phi Sigma Kappa vs. Phi Epsilon Pi, Sigma Phi Epsilon vs. SAE, Chi Psi vs. Phi Kappa, and Delta Sigma Pi vs. Farm House.

FRESHMEN START TENNIS TOURNEY

Forty Yearlings Compete;
Door, Meiklejohn Seeded
Nos. 1 and 2

The freshman tennis tournament is being held under the auspices of Coach Winterle is now ready for competition, and as soon as weather conditions are available, play will start.

Forty men have entered the tournament which will decide the final freshman tennis champion of the university. To the winner and runner-up, numerals and sweaters will be awards by the school.

Many Stars

Coach Winterle is hoping to gain from the results of this tournament a line on next year's prospects and may perhaps, if he sees fit, organize a freshman squad which will be given instruction and aid until the semester is over.

Competition among the frosh will be of the highest type, with no one regarded as an outstanding favorite. The two winners of last fall's tournament, Russell Simon and Paul Bauhs are not entered in this tournament, Simon being out of school and Bauhs being out of spring competition.

Among the men who have shown up well thus far in spring play are Donald Meiklejohn, who plays a very heady game; Bill Fadiman, who seems to have derived his driving from watching the stars perform at his home in Forest Hills; Aaron Gottlieb, a quarter-finalist in last fall's tournament and a good court player; and John Bell, a second semester entrant from Purdue where he played upon the frosh team, and showed class in winning his first all-university match over a former varsity aspirant.

The men who have been seeded by Coach Winterle for the tournament, and their rankings are:

(1) John Dorr Jr., (2) Donald Meiklejohn, (3) William B. Fadiman, (4) Aaron Gottlieb, (5) John Bell, (6) Judson Gross, (7) Joseph Friend and (8) Harry Godditt.

A quarter of an apple pie for a nickel is the forecast of a federal economics bureau. Maybe we'd better stick to the G. O. P. after all.

Plant-a-Tree Week should find a ready response in at least one place—the Mississippi valley.

ARMY-NAVY TILT

SCHEDULED FOR 4 P. M. FRIDAY

Coach Thistlethwaite Divides
Spring Squad for Final
Melee

A football game between the Army and Navy sections of the spring practice squad Friday at 4 o'clock on Varsity field, Camp Randall, will officially close the present Spring football season.

A total of 44 football candidates have been divided into teams of 22 each, and practically all of the men will be given an opportunity to play in the game Friday. Each man must play at least five minutes, and the coach may keep him or at least one half.

Switch Men

At the end of the first half an entirely new team will be sent upon the field to complete the game. No man who has playing during the first half is eligible for the second. The game will be conducted as a regulation game, and will give the spectators a chance to observe the new football rules in effect.

It is expected by the coaches that the teams will put up a great battle against each other because of the prize that is to be offered to the winning team. Every man on the winning team will be awarded a gold medal to signify the victory.

So close is this struggle to be that the coaches have made provisions for awarding the decision in case of a tie contest to the team that makes the most yardage.

Coach Tom Lieb has been coaching the Navy team, while Glenn Holmes and "Butch" Leitl have been working with the Army team.

It is expected that a huge crowd will turn out in the stadium to watch the progress of this game. No admission will be charged according to the latest advices.

Teams

The teams that have been picked by Coach Thistlethwaite are:

Navy—Wilson (c), Krom and Conner (guards), Ketaller and Ritter (tackles), Keene and Lytle (ends) Crofoot (Q. B.), Pinnegar and Dunnaway (H. B.), Linden (Fullback).

Wigdale (c), Ruddick and Roman (guards), McKenna and Backus (tackles), Hanks (end) Musolf and Bell (H. B.), Breckenfeld (fullback), no quarter back assigned.

Army—Miller (c), Stevens and Staneae (guards), McKaskle and Dempsey (tackles), O'Connor and Pierson (ends), Rebholtz and Zingdale (H. B.), Mohard (fullback), Hayes (Q. B.)

Phi Eta Sigma Installation

On Monday at 4:30 o'clock, there will be installed the University of Wisconsin chapter of Phi Eta Sigma, national freshman honorary scholastic fraternity. This chapter will be the fifth to be created, others being active on the campuses of the University of Illinois, University of Michigan, and other universities of the Middle West. The latest chapter is the one at the University of Oklahoma, which was installed last week.

According to reports from Dean Scott H. Goodnight's office, 55 freshmen men will be charter members of the local body, or approximately 3 per cent of the freshman class. All of these men, to be eligible for election, have received averages of at least 2.5. Fifty-five men from a freshman class numbering 1655 have received that average, and will become members of Phi Eta Sigma.

Numerous objections may be raised against Phi Eta Sigma. It might be said that it is premature to judge a man's scholastic excellence and capability solely upon his first semester's or first year's work. It might be said that it is foolish to create an honor society for the frosh when there are already dozens of similar organizations to which they may strive.

Whether or not a freshman honorary scholastic organization may fit into the already over-burdened, modern collegiate system remains to be seen.

The winner of Phi Eta Sigma will not hold an empty honor; he will be regarded as a potential Phi Beta Kappa—or as a junior Phi Beta Kappa—and the wearer of a Phi Beta key is respected as a scholar by almost everyone.

Arguments for Phi Eta Sigma are apparent. It will inspire freshmen to work with an immediate goal instead of three or four years off. Those elected to Phi Eta Sigma will doubtless be inspired to continue their high grade of workmanship, and to make Phi Beta Kappa in their junior or senior years. They probably will have an increased self-confidence in their abilities.

Nevertheless, The Daily Cardinal at present refuses to take a definite stand for or against the fraternity. We are, as yet, unsufficiently acquainted with our subject. We do, however, sincerely congratulate those hard-working members of the class of '30 who have been elected, and welcome Phi Eta Sigma to the University of Wisconsin campus as at least an interesting

RUMORS

In the midst of this open season for next year's "jobs" on the campus, one cannot step outside one's doorstep but that he hears no less than a dozen rumors that so-and-so is sure to get this or is in line for that, that the other fellow has played his politics so well that he has his job "sewed up" for next year, and is practically sure of the senior breakfast committee if he doesn't go on "pro" in the meanwhile.

There is the rumor that A failed to make Rho Deuterion Psi, and that B got into Beta Nu Zeta by a slip-up on C's part. There is the rumor that D is working for E so that he won't miss out on the Homecoming badge sales committee. A stranger on the campus, hearing these thousand and one allegations about rather unimportant affairs whose importance have been stretched far beyond the point of marginal elasticity could easily receive a mistaken impression of the university.

The attractions of the side shows, some of which are admittedly worth the price of admission, thus continue to monopolize interest against the main show in the big tent—and humans, with all their credulity, still absorb nine out of ten rumors as being 100 percent true.—Daily Illini.

BATTLE OF AUTOS AT MICHIGAN

The president of the University of Michigan and the Michigan Daily, student paper, are having a sprightly little controversy over student automobiles. It seems that the university some time ago enacted regulations governing use of student cars, that these regulations are not being enforced, and that the president is campaigning to have them enforced, and the Daily is campaigning to have them abolished.

The heat of the argument was reached Sunday when the president criticized the "puerile" editorial of the Daily, and Tuesday when the Daily replied in defense of the "puerile" editorial.

Following failure of the students to enforce the regulations, the president of the University, it seems, was in favor of temporary prohibition of all student automobiles. The Michigan Daily editors in conference with the president succeeded in obtaining an armistice. The prohibition of automobiles will be withheld for the time being, and students will be given one more chance to show their fairness by the regulations.

So much for the sketchy outline of the fight. The most important feature about it all was the fact that the president of a great university was openly opposed in matters of university policy concerning student life by the editors of the students, and that he came out like a man in open combat, permitted the student paper full freedom of expression, and let his own theories and plans be tested out in the heat of controversy and exchange of opinion.

Now this paper is all in favor of any regulations of students that may be necessary for the best interests of the students and university, but it does also believe that these regulations are not holies of holies, and that if they are sound in principle they will stand the gaff of any amount of student criticism. The more the better.—Daily Nebraskan.

AVIATION'S FUTURE

One hundred and eight years ago the world was startled by the news that trans-Atlantic communication had been established with an invention of doubtful practical application—the steamship. The 26 day voyage of the 350 ton Savannah marked the beginning of a new era in marine transportation, and a century of development has resulted in the utilization of these water highways through a network of steamship lines.

A similar opportunity for development presents itself to the twentieth century world in the field of aviation, still in its infancy when the unlimited possibilities of air transportation on a practical basis are considered. Indications point to the day in the near future when the Atlantic will no longer be a barrier to trans-oceanic aerial communication. Little doubt remains that a successful nonstop flight from New York to Paris will be made this year, as preparations are already under way for the crossing.

Just as the Atlantic Ocean challenged the skill and daring of the crew of the Savannah, so it tempts the flyers of today; but the difficulties which, in the past seemed too great to surmount, have been practically overcome by rapid advancement in design and construction, and aviation has been brought to a point where realization is succeeding expectation. Within the past year development of air-cooled motors has been so remarkable that the achievement is now not only held possible but practical and seems just a matter of time.

The projected flights are not mere stunt ventures. They have a practical basis and purpose. Once the psychological barrier which has hindered aviation from the beginning is broken down, commercial trans-Atlantic air service will become an established factor in the future of world communication, and the nation which first develops trans-Atlantic aviation will have marked advantage over other nations for the supremacy of the air.—Michigan Daily.

MUSEUM DISPLAYS VARIED POTTERY

Colorful Work of South and Central American People Shown

Large pieces of colorful pottery, almost perfectly shaped and imaginatively painted in predominating reds, dull oranges and browns, make up a portion of the very interesting exhibition of Southland Central American pottery which is on display in the Historical Museum this week.

The pottery, being made by different peoples, is extremely varied, but all shows the Spanish influence grafted on primitive originality. The butterfly people have a white clay pot, painted with large butterflies and raised snakes, while the frog people have made a vessel with three large frogs modelled on the side serving as handles.

Grotesquely fanciful waterbottles are made in the shapes of strange birds with their beaks serving as spouts.

The Arucanian Indian collection, secured by Prof. Bullock of the university who for ten years was in charge of an industrial mission there, contains many pieces indicative of the agricultural civilization of these Chilian Indians. The elaborately ornamented gourd vessels used for dishes, dippers and spoons etc. show a tendency toward floral decoration rather than the usual animal. Many are intricately and beautifully carved. Among the collection are large, square, hammered silver earrings, beaded collars, and necklaces. There is a miniature collection of tiny baskets and horse hair trinkets which the Indians sell at Christmas time. An old musical instrument, the King-Kur-Ka-Wa consists of horse hair stretched on a piece of bow shaped wood.

When college men wax decorative, strange and terrible may be the results. The pup, who is of indeterminate ancestry, was attired in white gauze bows, which tied around his legs, neck, and waist (if a dog may be said to have a waist) gave him a decidedly jaunty air. The bow on his perpetually wagging tail was especially striking. When placed on several lecture desks he apparently thoroughly enjoyed the attention he received. He was the recipient of numerous sky-rockets for "dog!"

UNIVERSITY CLINIC SAID TO BE ONE OF COUNTRY'S FINEST

Exactly 76 of every 100 students at the University of Wisconsin received medical treatment or advice from the university clinic and infirmary during the 1925-26 term, a report from Dr. W. Mowry, physician-in-chief of the student health service, shows. Of the 8,923 students enrolled during the year 6,691 used the clinic service.

The statistics do not indicate that Wisconsin students are less healthy than students in other universities, but show that the University of Wisconsin has, perhaps, the finest student health service in the United States.

Every student in the university pays an incidental fee of $15.50 each semester, of which $3.50 is for free personal medical service. In return, the student who becomes ill may summon one of the university's physicians at any time; he may also remain in the university infirmary and receive regular hospital attention, and receives board and room, the advantage of any necessary laboratory or x-ray work, and the services of the infirmary staff, nurses, and technicians.

Senate Refuses $2,000 To Stevens Point Family

The state senate on Tuesday voted down a $2,000 appropriation to Mr. and Mrs. Felix Kropidowski, of Stevens Point, for the death of their son, John, who was accidentally killed during a celebration at Stevens Point in March, 1926, at Tuesday's session. The vote was 18 to 10.

The accident occurred at the time of the celebration which was staged at Stevens Point to welcome home members of high school basketball team after they had won the state high school tournament. The boy's death was caused by the bursting of a blank cartridge in a cannon which exploded while members of the Wisconsin National Guard were participating in the celebration.

A bill by Assemblyman Ingalls, appropriating $2,750 to Eli J. Long, who was convicted of murder in Racine county several years ago and sentenced to life imprisonment at Waupun, but who was later released by the supreme court, was engrossed by the state senate by a vote of 16 to 11. Two other appropriation measures to pay for claims filed killed by the senate, however. One measure introduced by Sen. Carroll, would have appropriated a sum of money to H. A. Scotford of Glidden. The other, introduced by Sen. Caldwell, would have appropriated a sum of money to the First National Bank of Rio to pay for a farmer's tobacco crop which had been ruined.

Plan Massmeeting For Student Workers' Union

A mass meeting for those interested in the student labor union, recently organized at the university will be held Thursday, May 19. Plans have not been definitely settled as to where the meeting will be held, but it is thought that at the meeting of the executive committee, to be held Thursday night in Bascom hall, this will be decided. The new organization has been given the official name of "The Wisconsin Student Workers' League," it was announced following a meeting of the executive committee Tuesday night.

David M. Gauth, chairman of the executive committee, has appointed committees to complete the organization of the league, and to carry on an intensive membership drive within the next few weeks.

Perfumes now follow the season and modes. New perfumes vary for day and night use. Spicy varieties are created for daytime use and for evening there are hundreds of new alluring and elusive fragrance.

Bank Income Tax Measure
to be FoughtPostpone Hearing On Bill
Assessing Institutions'
Incomes

Hearing on the committee bill to tax incomes of banks, instead of their capital stock, was postponed by the assembly taxation committee, Tuesday afternoon, until an opinion, previously requested, can be obtained from the attorney general. The committee has asked regarding the present status of bank taxation and for rulings on what would be constitutional legislation on bank taxes.

The bill revises a large number of the statutes on taxation on intangible personal property—securities and moneys.

Indications were that the bill would meet strenuous opposition.

William H. Spohn, Madison attorney, appeared for the First National bank, and declared that he would appear against the bill when it comes up for a re-hearing. Lionel F. Foley, representing the Wisconsin Bankers' association, registered against the bill, as did a representative of the Wisconsin League of Building and Loan associations.

The attorney general's opinion was asked after the United States supreme court had overturned the Wisconsin bank taxation schemes in part, in its decision the Hartford National bank case.

Cardinal Plans Own Printing Establishment

Plans for a publishing plant of its own are being made by The Daily Cardinal, student newspaper of the University of Wisconsin, it was announced Tuesday. The paper is now being printed by The Capital Times.

The announcement was made indirectly in the threat of the Daily Cardinal Board of Control to abandon all steps toward the establishment of the publishing plant if the "striking editors took any "drastic" action in protesting the editorial appointments of the board.

Art works were exhibited in Sing Sing prison. Nothing like helping a fellow find out what's worth while before he goes after it.

Jack Frost To Tinge
May Flowers Tonight

May flowers in and about Madison will be covered with a light frost tonight, according to the report of the local weather bureau, but the cold and drizzling rain which has kept Madison folks alternating between their winter coats and slickers will be gone by tomorrow. In spite of the frost tonight, the weather will be fair.

Protest Dance Pavilion on Avenue

A protest against the erection of a dance pavilion just outside the city limits on University ave., by Emil H. Flindt, leader of Flindt's Strand theater orchestra, is being made by property owners in that district, according to a current report.

Mr. Flindt plans to erect a dance hall in the 2700 block on University ave., opposite the Timlin Lumber Co., and which is just outside the Madison city limits. A petition is being circulated among the property owners in the district, which will be presented to Mr. Flindt by a delegation with the request that he find another location further out and removed from residence property.

"A dance hall of the present day should be built out in the country away from any residences," the petitioners state, "as with a dance hall there is always some parties that get into trouble and cars going and coming from the dances late at night cause considerable noise."

Use the Cardinal---It's the Most Economical Way to Reach Students

The Cardinal is admittedly the most widely read of campus publications. Its daily offering of university news is eagerly greeted at every student breakfast table. The messages of Cardinal advertisers receive the attentive interest of every student because they appear in the company of live, interesting news.

Despite its great circulation and overwhelming reader interest, Cardinal rates are lower than those of any other University of Wisconsin publication. The advertiser who is interested in student business, and treats student advertising as a business rather than a charitable investment, must recognize the outstanding superiority of the Cardinal as a campus medium.
