BEATEN, BUT NOT AT FOOTBALL

SLUGGING WAS THE ORDER OF PROCEEDURE.

AND IN THAT THE ATHLETICS WERE EXPERTS.

Score of 16 to 4—Athletics Get All Their Points in the Last Half—Silverwood, Nelson and Dickinson Injured.

Chicago Athletic association defeated the Wisconsin team Saturday by a score of 16 to 4. The game was one of the roughest games of the season. The Chicago players, being determined to win and caring nothing for the means by which they won, succeeded in disabling three of our players; Silverwood whose collar bone was broken, Nelson whose shoulder was badly wrenches, and Dickinson, who was used up by the hard playing of the first half.

Chicago started the ball but neither side was able to gain anything on line plays and the ball was usually lost on four downs. With the ball on Wisconsin's twenty-five yard line, a series of rushes through the center advanced the ball and then Karel made a magnificent run of fifty yards for a touchdown. Lyman missed goal. Score: Wisconsin, 4; Chicago, 0.

The ball went back and forth for the rest of the half and when time was called the ball was almost on Chicago's goal line. It was afterward ascertained that the time of the goal kick had been counted and that therefore two minutes of play remained.

In the second half Wisconsin kicked off poorly and Stevenson made a good gain. Wisconsin secured the ball on downs but soon lost it. Then Waidner took the ball and made a magnificent run for a touchdown. Andrews kicked goal. Score: Chicago, 6; Wisconsin, 4. In a short time Wisconsin had the ball on the seven yard line but on the next play Stevenson succeeded in securing the ball. Culver was given the ball and run seventy-five yards and touched the ball behind the goal. Andrews kicked goal. Score: Chicago, 12; Wisconsin, 4. Nelson was disabled and his place was taken by Cochems.

Wisconsin rushed the ball to the five yard line and would probably have scored again but the ball was fumbled by Cochems. End plays brought the ball up the field and Van Doozer rushed the ball over the line. Andrews missed goal. Score: Chicago, 16; Wisconsin, 4. Just before time was called Karel made a run of twenty-five yards bringing the ball to Chicago's fifteen yard line. The men lined up as follows:

Bunge	Left guard.....	Thomas
Kull	Centre.....	Stevenson

FORTY-FOUR TO NOTHING.

The game on the lower campus this afternoon against Iowa college was a complete walk-away, apparently the only point at issue being to see how fast we could pile up the points. The score was 44 to 0 in favor of Wisconsin.

Y. M. AND Y. W. C. A.

An attractive program was presented at the meeting of the associations yesterday afternoon. Good music was furnished by a double male quartette and instructive and well-written papers were read on the following great missionaries: Bishop Patteson, William Carey, Adoniram Judson, David Brainard, Joseph Neesema, Father Damien, and David Livingston.

In the portrayal of these heroes, their influence on the world at large was forcibly brought out, the work of Carey and Judson influencing the literary activities of India and Burmah by translations being especially described. Miss Vernon's topic, David Brainard, was treated in a very interesting manner. The fact of the missionary being a college man contributed to the article. The character of Joseph Neesema, the first native ordained missionary of Japan, was of interest, he being practically exiled from his own country but afterwards pardoned, when he established the great Doscesha college in Tokio.

ART EXHIBITION.

The Art-Loan exhibition begins in the Presbyterian church parlors Tuesday night, Oct. 30, and continues for a week. Oil paintings, water colors, fabrics, photographs, curios, etc., constitute what is pronounced the finest collection ever seen in Madison. Tea will be served and there will be music. Open day and evening. Season tickets $1. Single admission 25 cents. For benefit of ladies free kindergarten association. It is hoped university students will improve this opportunity to study art.

POLITICAL STATISTICS.

A canvass of university students who are qualified to vote this fall has been made with the view of ascertaining their politics. The members of the freshmen class and the ladies attending the institution were not considered. The result shows that the republican party has the largest proportion of voters. The following are the figures: republicans, 329; democrats, 157; prohibition, 27; people's party, 2; independents, 4, no choice, 12.

MATHEMATICIANS MEET AND PLAN WORK.

Talks on the Lives of Missionaries—Minor News Notes.

While exercising in the gymnasium Saturday afternoon George O. Burkholz, law '96, had the misfortune to meet with a rather serious accident. A number of students had for some time been practicing a running jump from a spring-board to the horizontal bars located in the front of the hall. Burkholz, jumping, failed to grasp the bars and was thrown heavily to the hard-wood floor. He received a severe blow on the back of his head and was carried out in an unconscious condition. He remained in this state for some time. At present, though still very low, he is feeling somewhat better. This is the first accident which has occurred in the new gymnasium.

MATHEMATICAL CLUB.

The committee of the Mathematical club met last Saturday evening at the residence of Prof. Van Velzer to consider the work of the club for the year. It was decided to review two German and two French periodicals for the year, and the work of review was assigned to different members of the club. An important change was made in the program of the club. It was decided to have, in addition to the purely mathematical papers, a short paper on the life of some noted mathematician. It was thought that this would be especially interesting to undergraduates, say of the sophomore and junior classes. It was decided to begin with the study of the English mathematicians, and a paper will be read at the next meeting, Saturday, Nov. 3d, on the life of Sir Isaac Newton.

—S. A. Bostwick, law '95, spent Sunday with old friends.

—Miss Wheelihan spent Sunday with friends in Milwaukee.

—D. C. Gile, '96, has returned to the university. He has been at Superior for some time.

—Prof. Coffin gives his English History classes a mid-term quiz Wednesday.

—Dr. Pingree of Chicago visited his daughter, Miss Bessie Pingree, '98, Sunday.

—Prof. Davies will meet his classes at the usual hours tomorrow, Tuesday, October 30th.

—Hugo Duke, of Milwaukee, is spending a few days with W. F. Hase, '97, at the Delta Upsilon lodge.

—The local chapter of Phi Gamma Delta gave an informal dancing party at their chapter lodge Saturday evening.

—Oliver Oleson, law '95, gave an enjoyable spread to some of his friends last evening, the occasion being his twentieth birthday.

REPUBLICAN SPEECHES.

Another Meeting to Be Held by the Club Tonight.

The University Republican club will hold another rally in the municipal court room this evening, beginning at 7 o'clock. Those who will address the meeting are: A. L. Sanborn, S. A. Harper, president of the state league; Hon. George B. Burrows, candidate for member of the assembly; and Amos P. Wilder, of the State Journal.

GYM CRACKS.

Students who have not passed in their gymnasium cards are requested to do so at once. They will be refused admittance to the floor until they do.

The bowling alleys at the gymnasium are nearly completed. All that remains to be done is the oiling of the floors and varnishing the wood work. The balls have already come and the pins will be here in a few days.

All students who expect to vote in Madison must be sure and register at the polls in person tomorrow or Wednesday.

While enough has perhaps been said in regard to the ill-fated game at Lafayette, it is interesting to note the half-hearted, shame-faced manner in which the last issue of the Purdue Exponent attempts to uphold the course of affairs at the game and condemn the action of Wisconsin. Passing over the matter in very general terms in its news columns, it devotes a short editorial to the matter, in which it says:

"Purdue is certainly free from all blame. Football contests between college teams are always supposed to be of a friendly nature, and to get angry and forfeit a game is more the act of a child than of a college student. View it in any light we will, we can not see that Wisconsin was justified in forfeiting Monday's game. No team is justified in such an act. Having begun a game, both teams are honorably bound to play it to a finish.
Both teams are also honorably bound to respect the umpire's decisions."

A very just petition has been drawn up by students to be submitted to the board of regents asking that body to grant the Monday previous to election day as a holiday so that an opportunity can be had to go home to vote.
It is to be hoped that they will consider the demand in all its aspects.
The number of students who will vote this fall is sufficient to make quite a difference in many parts of the state in the result of the election. In business circles the demand is complied with and employees allowed all the time necessary to cast their ballots.

Surely we as a body take just as active an interest in election as the generality of citizens and therefore ought to receive equal opportunities, besides the manner of school boys, for manifesting the same.

A ballot here does not represent our sentiments definitely. The state ticket is the only portion of the ticket which we have any direct knowledge of that we can vote for here. We are deprived of voting for the other members of the ticket which are perhaps acquaintances of ours or at least persons in who we are especially interested. If our request is granted the result will indicate clearly our real expressions and will be a right that our people in the various districts of the state are justified in expecting.

That contest at Chicago last Saturday was another of those unfortunate games which are so unsatisfactory and concerning which it is always wished that they had not happened.
An honorable defeat is comparatively easy to bear. But when an opponent descends to means for defeating as to which we will not lower ourselves, and substitutes the brute strength of the prize-fighter for the skill of the football player, then it is that we feel netted almost beyond endurance.

Everyone knows why the game Saturday went as it did. We had already beaten the Chicago athletics by a safe score; they were about to go east to play, and, craving the title of "Champions of the West," gathered together a select combination of Chicago pug-lists to play us again; hoping to defeat us fairly, at the beginning they confined their efforts for the most part to legitimate work, but, alarmed by the zero on their side of the score at the close of the first half, they launched out on their battering-ram program, in which we, not practicing football in that manner, could not hope to equal them. So they go east with their coveted title. But what matter? The doubtful means by which they acquired it is so well known as to turn from them that servile homage which they had hoped to command. And when they come under the surveillance of an umpire who will not wink at slugging, "where will they be at?"

At any rate, Wisconsin need not deplore its nominal defeat, as it was not a college game, and so does not debar us from winning first place among western college teams.

thirty members already enrolled as that any who are thinking of joining attend the early meetings so as not to

ACADEMY POW-WOW.

Academy Literary Society Holds Its First Public Debate.

The Pow-wow Debating society of the Wisconsin academy held its first open meeting Friday evening. The assembly room was filled, there being fully one hundred visitors present. The question for debate was: Resolved that a cabinet government like that of England is preferable to the present government of the United States. The affirmative was argued by J. P. Lawson and Mr. N. P. Curtis, while the negative side was upheld by Mr. Philip Allen and Mr. S. M. Bate. The affirmative won and this long disputed question is now at length conclusively settled.

The following program was then carried out: Oration, The Confederate Soldier, Mr. Clancy; recitation, The Eve Before Waterloo, Mr. Newell; essay, The Coxey Army, Mr. Casson; Five minute speech, The Battle of Waterloo and the Death of Napoleon, Mr. Henning; reading, Selection from Pickwick Papers, Mr. Carey; toast, Mr. Gullickson; vocal selection, Master Philip Spooher.

COLLEGE MEN AND PUBLIC LIFE

In the August number of the "Atlantic Monthly," Mr. Theodore Roosevelt discusses with refreshing conciseness and aptness, the college graduate and his relation to public life. After lamenting the tendency of college men to regard themselves as a class apart Mr. Roosevelt attacks with unsparring vigor the supine indifference assumed by them towards public affairs in general and practical politics in particular.

Among the important premises of the article are:

"The first great lesson which the college graduate should learn is the lesson of work rather than of criticism," and "Let him beware of associating only with the people of his own caste and of his own little ways of political thought. Let him learn that he must deal with the mass of men; that he must go out and stand shoulder to shoulder with his friends of every rank and face to face with his foes of every rank, and must bear himself well in the hurly-burly."

The proneness of a certain class, possibly of the majority of college men, to criticise all creation from the fictitious and ideal pinnacle of their own superiority is as apparent as it is unfortunate. Such conduct not only lays the college graduate open to the charge of folly but is especially pernicious as constituting an abuse of the exceptional privileges he has enjoyed. Whatever advantages a man possesses it is his duty to use them for the benefit of his fellowmen, and the advantages of a liberal education are not excepted from the rule. The function of the citizen is not merely to criticise the defects in the civic policy to which he is subject but to endeavor, by all legitimate means, to correct them. If he does not work he is an incumbrance and, in compliance with the inexorable law which distinguishes all things which do not justify their existence, he should be removed.

The same animadversions bear upon the petty class clannishness so justly complained of. A college man, in virtue of his educational attainments, should not consider himself superior to his fellow-men but simply as a means of greater usefulness to them. This truth is insisted upon with special emphasis by Mr. Roosevelt. Failing that he is a drone and deserves whatever ills a defective administration may visit upon him. Further, if it were possible to carry such a refined process of equity into practice, he should be compelled to suffer in proportion to the greatness of the advantages which he has abused.

Under any form of government, and especially under a republic, is it the imperative duty of that class of citizens who, from their abilities or training, are particularly well qualified to understand the functions of government, to guard with jealous care the administration of the public welfare and of their civil rights. Failing that they are recreant to the trust reposed in them as the condition of their civil birth-right, and are traitors to their country and to their own best interests.—Young Men's Era.

Football game with Beloit College, at Beloit.

—A clipping has recently been going the rounds of the college papers to the effect that there is a movement on foot to form a football league consisting of Cornell, Lafayette and the University of Pennsylvania. Wishing to learn if the rumor was true a Sun reporter saw Football Manager Atkinson yesterday and showed him the clipping. "It is the first I have seen or heard of such a movement," was his reply. "There is absolutely no truth whatever in the story so far as Cornell is concerned. Further, we are not seeking as yet to enter any football league, nor will we do so probably for a year or two to come."—Cornell Sun.
